

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method and system for analyzing web access. First, a plurality of web log records are received. Next, multi-dimensional summary information is generated based on the web log records. Then, derivation and analysis are performed to discover usage
5 patterns and rules for supporting business intelligence by using the multi-dimensional summary information.